Introduction

PITTSTON

The town of Pittston lies on the east side of the Kennebec River in the County of Kennebec, State of Maine, six miles south southeast of the city of Augusta, the capital of the state. It is bounded on the north by the town of Randolph, on the east by the town of Alna and Whitefield, on the south by the town of Dresden and on the west by the Kennebec river.

It has three villages, viz: Pittston, North Pittston and East Pittston.

It was originally a part of the town of Gardiner, but was separated from that town and incorporated in 1779, named in honor of William Pitt.

CHELSEA

The town of Chelsea is situated in the County of Kennebec, State of Maine, five miles southeast of Augusta, on the Kennebec Central R. R. It is bounded on the north by the town of Augusta, on the east by the town of Whitefield, on the south by the town of Randolph and on the west by the Kennebec river.

This town was originally a part of Hallowell, and was separated from that town and incorporated in 1850. The National home for disabled soldiers is located at Togus a government tract situated in the northeastern part.

RANDOLPH

The town of Randolph is situated in the County of Kennebec, State of Maine, six miles south southeast of Augusta. It is bounded on the north by the town of Chelsea, on the east by the town of Whitefield, on the south by the town of Pittston and on the west by the Kennebec river.

This town was originally a part of the town of Pittston from which it was separated in 1887 under the name of West Pittston. The name was changed the same year to the present name, Randolph.

Early Settlement

The coming of the whites in 1607 to the mouth of the Kennebec river was a signal for a life and death contest between two, all the time, and a part of the time three different races for the control and ownership of the lands of the State of Maine. The one was the English, the other the Aborigines and the third, the French. All the conflicts between the whites and the Indians along the line of the Kennebec valley are now passed into history. The tales that are handed down from generation to generation picture the dangers of settlements, the hardships and discouragements attendent upon the pioneer in the region of which we write. The Indian was in full ownership of the lands at the time of the arrival of the whites, and had been in such ownership from time immemorial. He believed himself to be harshly treated at the hands of his white brothers who had been better favored by the advantages of civilization than he, when they at once began a series of efforts to gain footholds upon the lands of his fathers, and they consequently retaliated in the cruel ways known only to the Red men of America.

Then followed war upon war, small massacre upon massacre, council upon council and threat upon threat till the years rolled by with the face of nature slowly but surely changing to the complexion the civilized community, and the Redman taking his wigwam slowly to the north and west.

Such was the contest waging in this valley when Alexander Brown, the first recorded white settler of Pittston came here. He located on what came to be known later as Brown's farm. The date of his coming is set at about 1670. He lived here and weathered the surging storm of race conflict till 1676, when in one of the onslaughts he was murdered by the Indians. Then all is again a blank so far as settlement is concerned for a period of over eighty years.

The time of actual settlement begins about 1754 when the lots had been laid out by Captain John North. Not far from 1760 settlements were made on both sides of the river. The following gives briefly the facts concerning the early settlers, of Pittston, proper.

Edward Fuller settled here in about 1760 on the farm later occupied by his grandson, B. F. Fuller. The next lot north of this was settled upon two years later by Nathaniel Bailey. The next above that of Bailey was settled by Frederick Jackins. In 1761 four brothers, Reuben, Jeremiah, Oliver and Benjamin Colburn all strong men and of great help to any community in its early stages of development, particularly came to Pittston and settled above Agry's Point and carried on a large ship building business for many years. Their place was called for years Colburntown. We learn that here some of the batteaux for Arnold's expedition were made. About 1763 or 1764 Martin Haley settled in the southwestern corner of the town and raised the first English hay in town.

The following are those who came a little later and made Pittston their home: William Barker, 1780; Eleazar Tarbox, 1781; David Moores, 1787; Abner Marson, 1768; Marson, so tradition has it, was captured later and carried off by the Indians. Henry Bodge, 1780; Elijah Jackson, 1781; Hubbard Eastman Samuel Oakman, 1772; Henry Smith, 1772; John and Henry Noble, John Taggart, 1773; Levi Shepherd; Thomas Agry for whom Agry's point was named came here in 1774.

CHELSEA

The town of Chelsea was settled about the time of the other towns along the river. It was till 1850 a part of the old town of Hallowell and its history is to that time a part of that town. For this section of our brief sketch we have complied the following list of names of the early settlers of this town. These names are those revealed by the past sketch of the town of Winslow in 1761.

Jonathan Davenport, 1863; Noah Kidder, 1763; Ezekiel Chase, 1763; Stevens Chase, 1763; Daniel Davis, 1763; Nathan Davis, 1763; Benjamin Davis 1763; James Cocks, 1762; Samuel Bullen, 1763; Henry McCausland, 1763; Samuel Berry, 1764; Joseph North, 1788; Benjamin Hallowell, Edwin Goodwin, James Bowdoin, John Hancock, Samuel Goodwin, John Jones.

RANDOLPH

The early settlers of Randolph then a part of Pittston are not revealed to any considerable extent today. Among the number known at the present time are the following: Daniel Sewall, George Williamson, James Bailey, Gideon Barker, John Jewett.

Incorporation and Town Officers

The ancient town of Pittston contained all the territory of the present towns of Pittston, Randolph, Gardiner and West Gardiner. The territory was called when a plantation, Gardinerston, in honor of Dr. Sylvester Gardiner who was the proprietor of large tracts of land in this section, and was largely instrumental in securing settlements here.

When the town was incorporated into a full fledged town government the name assumed was taken in honor of the Pitt family, Hon. John Pitt having introduced the act in the General Court. The town would have undoubtedly been named for Dr. Gardiner but for his sympathy with Great Britian in the Revolutionary War.

The first town meeting after the incorporation was held in the tavern of Henry Smith on the east side. At this point the old ferry was maintained for many years.

In 1803 the town of Gardiner was erected into a separate town under its present name.

The original act of incorporation of the town of Pittston is as follows:

Pittston

State of Massachusetts Bay

In the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-nine.

"An Act for incorporating the plantation called Gardinerston in the County of Lincoln into a town by the name of Pittston, and for annexing certain lands in the said County to the town of Bowdoinham.

"Whereas a number of inhabitants of the plantation called Gardinerston, in the County of Lincoln have represented to this Court the difficulties and inconveniences they labour under in their present condition, and have requested that they be incorporated into a town.

"Be it therefore enacted by the Council and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, that the said plantation called Gardinerston, bounded as follows viz: beginning at the north line of the town of Pownalborough at Kennebeck river, and to run an east southeast course on the said north line five miles from the said river; from thence to run northerly about seven miles, more or less, to the southeasterly corner of the town of Hallowell, from thence to run west northwest on the south line of the said Hallowell to the said Kennebeck river, and across said river, and running a west northwest course on the south line of said Hallowell, five or six miles to Cobbosseecontee stream, on the west side of said Kennebeck river; from thence to run southerly down the said stream, and as the stream runs to the first pond, and on said pond or a stream, to the north line of a large lot number ten, granted by the proprietors of the Kennebeck purchase to the late William Bowdoin, Esq., deceased; from thence to run an east southeast course on the said north line of the said lot, to the said Kennebeck river; and from thence southerly down said river to the north line of Pownalborough aforesaid, be and hereby is incorporated into a town by the name of Pittston, and that the inhabitants thereof be and they hereby are invested with all the powers, privileges and immunities which the inhabitants of towns within this State do, or may by law enjoy.

"And be it further enacted that James Howard, Esq., be and hereby is empowered and directed to issue his warrant to some principal inhabitant of the said town, requiring him to warn the inhabitants thereof to meet at such time and place as shall therein be set forth to choose all such officers as towns are by law required and impowered to choose in the month of March annually, at which, said first meeting, all then there present, inhabitants upwards of twenty-one years of age shall be admitted to vote.

"And Whereas, it is expedient that certain lots of land on the west side of the said Kennebeck river, which were understood to be within the said plantation of Gardinerston, should until the further order of the General Court, be annexed to, and incorporated with the town of Bowdoinham in the County of Lincoln aforesaid.

"Be it enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the said lots of land lying between the north line of Bowdoinham and the north line of lot numbered ten aforesaid, being numbered five, six, seven, eight, nine and ten respectively, and each being about one mile wide, and running west northwest five miles back from said Kennebeck river, shall be, and hereby are annexed to, and incorporated with the town of Bowdoinham, aforesaid, and made a part thereof; and the inhabitants of the same in conjunction with the other inhabitants of the said town are hereby vested with all town privileges, whatsoever agreeable to an act of the General Court, passed in the year one thousand seven hundred and sixty-two, for incorporating the town of Bowdoinham aforesaid. Provided, nevertheless, and

"Be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the said lots shall be and hereby are subjected to pay their rateable and proportional part of all taxes, which have been hitherto according to law laid on the said plantation of Gardinerston and remaining unpaid; and also of any further tax which shall be laid on the said plantation (including said lots) and assessed thereon before a new and general valuation of estates throughout this State shall take place, and before such valuation the said lots shall not be subject to pay any part of any taxes on the town of Bowdoinham aforesaid.

"And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, that the assessors of the town of Pittston aforesaid which shall be chosen in pursuance of this Act, shall be and hereby are empowered to proportion and assess according to law the aforesaid taxes, laid as aforesaid; and the said assessors before they proceed to execute their office, shall be under oath for the faithful discharge thereof, which oath shall be administered to them by some Justice of the Peace, for the County of Lincoln.

"In the House of Representatives,
"February 4, 1779.

"This bill having been read three several times passed to be enacted.

"JOHN RICKERING, Speaker.

"In Council, February 4, 1779.

"This bill having two several readings, passed to be enacted.

"JOHN AVERY, D'y Secretary.

"Consented to be the major part of the Council."

RANDOLPH

The town of Randolph was originally a part of the town of Pittston with exception of a small tract annexed from Chelsea and was separated from that town and incorporated in the year 1887. The occasion for the separation was due to the differences of the whole town of Pittston over the matter of an extension of the water works from the city of Gardiner into the village of Randolph to provide protection from fire. The town as a whole voted against the proposition. The people of the present territory of Randolph then resolved upon separation. The Act passed the legislature and provided for the erection of a town by the name of West Pittston, comprising the following territory: viz—all that part of Pittston lying north of the south line of Worromontogus stream. There was a provision with reference to the Gardiner and Pittston bridge which provided that the care and current expenses of the bridge should be borne by West Pittston, but in case of total or partial destruction of the bridge the expenses of rebuilding it should be borne in the same way as though no separation had been made.

On the seventeenth of March the name of the town was changed from West Pittston to Randolph. The regular town officers were chosen at the first meeting of the new town on March 14, 1887.

The following have been the town officers since the incorporation.

Military Matters.

No loyal son of Pittston can fail to be proud of the military record of his town in the service of the country in hours of need.

The Kennebec Valley was the scene of the equipment in part of one of the most noted and historic movements in our war of the Revolution, namly the Arnold expedition to Canada. Here in Pittston or Randolph as now known the batteaux of Arnold were made by the Colburns. Here the expedition remained some days waiting for the completion of the boats. In the party were General Arnold, then Col. Aaron Burr, later vice-president of the United States and men who attained prominence. The result of the expedition has passed into history. This town was very much effected by the spirit of loyalty and many men in those days of the pioneer and when poverty was a force to be reckoned with—responded to the call to arms and went to the scenes of war.

On the muster rolls in Boston are recorded the following names of those who hailed from Gardinerston, Cobbossee or Pittston: Thomas Berry served three years; Nathaniel Berry, d 1850, aged 95; Alexander McCausland, enlisted in 1777, and deserted; Zedediah Norton, enlisted, for three years, marked missing; Frederick O'Bluffskey, three years; David Berry, three years; Thomas Colburn, enlisted and deserted; Joseph Davis, enlisted and deserted; Ezra Davis, served three years; James Door served three years; Henry McCausland, the maniac, served three years, d August 28, 1829, aged 70; John Smith served three years; Samuel Damon, served three years and died 1780.

Besides these are the following who hailed from other places, but who have since resided here: Hugh Cox, d January 9, 1836, aged 75; Joshua Edwards, d August 17, 1836, aged 82; Thomas Jackson Jonathan Blake, d January 20, 1848, aged 90; Joseph Collins d December 6, 1848, aged 89; Jonathan Lowell, d November 17, 1848, aged 89; David Moors, d January 30, 1847, aged 89; Jedediah Robinson, d November 1848, aged 83; Levi Shepherd, d Feburary 1849, aged 86; James McCausland, d March 14, 1826, aged 66; Samuel Berry, Theodore Tibbetts, ———Ward, ———Dickey, ———Couch.

Maine was not in a position politically and geographically to feel the effects of the War of 1812 to any considerable degree; but Pittston was represented by the following: two companies for Lieutenant Colonel Stone's regiment were raised in Pittston. The captain of the first was David P. Bailey; lieutenant John Blanchard; ensign, Joseph Follansbee; sergeants, Elihu Lord, Joseph Kidder, George Williamson; corporals, William Troop, Nathaniel Brown, George Jewett, Tristram Folsom; James Bailey and Alexander Blanchard, musicians. The company embraced forty privates. Of the second company Jonathan Young was captain; Eli Young, lieutenant; Dudley Young, ensign; Jonathan Clark, Leonard Coopey and James Gray, Jr., sergeants; Henry Benner, Nathaniel Benner, Reuben Lewis and Frederick Lewis, corporals. The privates numbered fifty-six.

But the great test came in 1861—5 when the great War of Seccession came on. In this contest the town of Pittston and the town of Chelsea responded nobly as the list of names which we have complied herewith will amply show. The lists follow:

Pittston is credited with the following men at the close of the year 1861: Walter N. Boynton, Daniel Brookings, John G. Boynton, Harrison H. Blair, d October 16, 1862; Kendall Bickford, Hiram W. RANDOLPH

Randolph shares with Pittston, her mother town, the glory won in the military support given to the country. We have no means to tell the names of those who were enlisted from that part of the town, now Randolph.

Church Account

The religion of the Puritans was not deep-rooted in Pittston. Those of that faith attended at Hallowell, there being but a few here in 1786. It is said that Major Reuben Colburn would on Saturdays, if the day was suitable, take his family in a canoe and paddle them down the river to Georgetown, thirty-five miles away, attending church Sunday and returning Monday. The church building of 1788 was allowed to stand after the town finished it, and was used for meetings.

The eastern part of the town did not favor any faith except Methodism, and in 1810 the town was divided by a central line creating two parishes—west and east.

CONGREGATIONAL

A Congregational society was formed November 12, 1812, in the East parish, at the house of Major Reuben Colburn, by Isaac Noyes, Ephraim Hunt, Mrs. Thomas Jackson, Francis Flitner, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Jackins, Mary Oakman and Sally Oakman. Daniel Kendrick was ordained the minister, and regular preaching was enjoyed for many years. About 1836 the present neat edifice was erected on the Captain David B. Bailey farm. In 1841, Rev. James McCollum was ordained, remaining until 1849, succeeded by Rev. Sumner Clark for two years. Rev. Joshua Gray assumed the pastorate in the fall of 1851. In 1883 C. S. Wilder filled the desk. In 1884 it was vacant. Jacob Horton and W. H. McBride officiated in 1885. Rev. Mr. Tygeson in 1886 and 1887; Daniel Evans completed the season of 1887 and that of 1888; William H. McBride returned in 1890, succeeding Lyman McServis of 1889. In 1891, during the summer, Rev. Mr. Ferguson officiated.

Under the pastorate of H. L. McCann the new chapel was dedicated on June 17, 1894. It is located one and a half miles down the river near the old Colburn Mansion. The church numbers today forty-two members.

The pastors since Mr. McCann have been: W. G. Wade, 1897—'99; A. L.———1899—1903, and occasional supplies. The present pastor is C. A. Wright of Hallowell.

METHODIST

The Methodist Episcopal Society of East Pittston was instituted in 1797, by the efforts of Aaron Humphrey and included members from Whitefield.

The Methodist preaching in the town was by the Pioneer Jesse Lee, about 1794. He was succeeded by Phillip Wager, Enoch Mudge, Elias Hulland Roger Searles, before the society was organized. This church, which included David Young, James Norris, Benjamin Flitner and Benjamin Clark among its most efficient early members, has always been joined in circuit with others in neighboring towns. Four efficient ministers have been raised from this society—David Young, Jr., John Young, and Eliakim and Cyrus Scammon. From the organization until 1810 the other ministers were: John Finnegan, Comfort C. Smith, Timothy Merritt, Reuben Hubbard, Joseph Baker, Daniel Ricker, Samuel Hillman, Allen H. Cobb, David Carr, James Young, Joel Steele and William Frost.

The ministers to 1820 were: David Wentworth, David Stimpson, Caleb Fogg, Samuel Hillman, Joshua Nye, Ebenezer F. Newell, John Wilkinson, John Lewis, Jeremiah Marsh, Henry True, John Briggs, William McGray, and Benjamin Ayer. Ministers to 1830 were: John Atwell, Phillip Ayer, Daniel Wentworth, F. E. Newell, B. Jones, Peter Burgess, Caleb Fogg, Francis Drew, William Douglass, and John Libby. Those to 1840 were: John Young, Samuel Jewett, James Thwing, R. J. Ayer, and Josiah Higgins. The next decade brought Revs. Daniel Fuller, S. P. Blake, Sullivan Bray, David Hutchinson, George D Strout, Mace R. Clough and Daniel Clark. During the next decade the pastors were: P. P. Morrill, John S. Pingree, Benjamin F. Sprague, R. T. Dixon, Oran Strout and J. D. Brown. During the sixties the pastors were: Otis F. Jenkins, R. R. Richards, P. Higgins, P. Rowell, C. E. Libby, John C. Prescott, and Albert Prescott. In the seventies: John Bean, J. W. Perry, M. G. Prescott, Moses D. Miller, E. H. Boyington, and E. H. Tunnicliff. During the eighties: Orrin Tyler, Jacob T. Crosby' Joseph H. Beal, B. B. Byrnes, and in 1888, Orrin Tyler for four years.

In 1871 the church edifice was repaired, and in 1878 the parsonage was renovated and painted. A Sunday school was organized in 1832. This society is now joined in circuit with Whitefield. In 1809 a small church building was erected by subscription, and in 1838 the present and better one was built by the society, assisted by citizens. The cost was $2,400, and the building is free to all other denominations when not in use by the Methodists. In 1846 the first church bell of the town was placed in its tower.

The pastors since 1890 are: Orrin Tyler, 1889; George Palmer, 1892; C. W. Lowell, 1894; J. M. Morelan, 1897; Charles H. B. Seiliger, 1898; William Berkley, 1899; and L. L. Harris the present pastor, 1900.

Repairs are now being made on the church to the extent of about three thousand dollars.

RANDOLPH

In 1844 the seed of Methodism was planted in Pittston, now Randolph. The first shepherd of the little flock, being P. P. Morrell, was here about a year. His successors were: Rev. Marcus Wright, 1 year; and Rev. Mr. Yates, also one year. The church edifice was erected in 1847, the building committee being John Blanchard and Smith C. Cox.

The first pastor after the church was dedicated was Rev. Francis Soule. The pastors since Mr. Soule have been, Marcus Wight, Zina H. Blair, Abia Foster, Phineas Higgins, Daniel Clark, Horace Bray, T. P. Adams, Freeman Chase, Ezra Sanborn, George Strout, C. A. Plummer, C. B. Besse, J. N. Marsh, G. A. Crawford, G. G. Winslow, C. E. Libby, J. W. Price, Howard Clifford, E. S. Gahan, G. B. Chadwick, J. T. Crosby, W. W. Ogier, V. E. Hills, James L. Folsom, L. G. March, A. H. Hanscomb, A. E. Russell, H. G. Hoisington, and C. W. Lowell.

CHELSEA

The town contains no separate religious society. The majority of professed christains are Methodists and are generally communicants of the church at Randolph. The pastor of the Randolph church preaches here once in two weeks, and this people are considered within the Randolph charge.

The few Baptists here also sustain services, and a large and profitable Union Sunday school has been organized by the two socities here, and regular services are held.

The old church, now a town house, which stood on the river road when built, was of great importance in its earliest days. Forty years ago the audinece room would be crowded with listeners at the stated preaching; but death and removals thinned the ranks. About 1866 the church was moved to its present site, it being hoped that this step would resuscitate its usefulness; but in 1883 it was given to the town if that body would keep it in repair and allow preaching within its walls as needed.

Industrial Notes

The region about the Kennebec in the vicinty of Hallowell was for nearly a century a leading industrial center for a large area of the central portion of Maine. Pittston and Chelsea shared in this prosperity in a large measure.

The first efforts toward manufacturing were of course directed toward securing means of grinding grain and sawing the logs. These were absolute necessities in the time of the pioneer. The first saw mill was owned and run by Edward Lawrence, and the first grist mill by Franklin Flitner. The chief industries, however, of the town of Pittston from the time when it really began to develop till the final dissolution of the industry in the smaller places, was shipbuilding. Shipbuilding was carried on in every available place along the river bank. Pittston was wooded with a very heavy growth of oak and this greatly facilitated shipbuilding here. The Agry family is said to have been the first to institute this industry in this town. Thomas Agry, already mentioned, came from Dresden and settled at what is now known as Agry's Point, in 1774. Here he built some of the first vessels built above Bath. He had three sons, Thomas, David, and John, who were also engaged in the same business, in this town and all along the river. Others in large numbers engaged in this industry down through succeeding years till about the middle of the last century.

We are informed that ten vessels have been seen at one time in construction in Pittston. We are also told that wages in the course of the years 1854–5 ran as high as $5.00 a day. About this time the shipbuilding interests collapsed. The last vessel built in Pittston was the schooner "Grace Cushing" of 150 tons, built in the winter of 1869–70.

Following close upon the industry of shipbuilding was the ice business. This industry was attempted at a much earlier date, in fact as early as 1826 an attempt was made to start the industry. Failure was the result. In 1848–9 W. A. Lawrence, Dr. C. W. Whitmore, and Charles A. White of Gardiner housed 2000 tons of ice in Pittston. This was the beginning. From this time on the business grew rapidly. James L. Cheesman was the one who promoted it to a greater extent than any one else among the early ones. He owned a house in Pittston as well as in other towns along the river.

The firms who have been engaged here are nearly all included in the following: Kennebec Land & Lumber Co., The Great Falls Co., Morse & Haley, Haynes & DeWitt, Independent Ice Co., Clark & Chaplan Ice Co., and Consumers Ice Co.

Within the last few years there has been a decided change for the worse in the ice business on the Kennebec. It is hoped that the coming years may bring a revival of this important industry here.

The above data applies equally well to Chelsea save in the name of firms doing business. The Knickerbocker Ice Co. and others were engaged in that industry here.

In Randolph there were the following concerns: The Knickerbocker Ice Co., The Centennial Ice Co., and others who have carried on the industry on a smaller scale.

As to the early mills in Chelsea we have the following from apparently reliable sources: About the first saw mill built in this town was the one on the Togus stream by William and Robert Moore. Another was built by Thomas Searls in 1834. Before this was the Douglas mill a short distance above. The others were the Gardner mill above the present Baker mill, the Roberts mill, the Jewett mill, 1850 at Old Orchard, the mill on Brown's Brook built in 1814 by James Brown. On the Togus stream was also a saw mill built by Black John Jones.

At Randolph a liberal share of the industries of this section have been located. As we have seen she had her share of the important ice business, and also was she favored with shipbuilding to a large degree. As to mills and manufacturies of various natures she has had the following, Franklin Stevens' mill on the Little Togus about 1850, Bradbury, Bowman & Blanchard's mill built in 1835, the Kennebec Land & Lumber Co. organized in 1869 and the builders of a large saw mill and lumber plant in general. It has since passed through several hands and was later owned and operated by Putman & Closson.

The Oliver Moulton estate is now operating a lumber plant. An industry of considerable importance was the shoe factory built in 1887 and later discontinued. It is now the place of business of the Farmer's Supply Co. Other industries were the old Fulling mill on Togus Stream on the Samuel Stevens' farm, and the old Cooper mill on the same stream in 1808.

RANDOLPH BRIDGES

The first bridge was built by a stock company which issued bonds to the value of $30,000. The total cost of the structure was $38,000, and the $8000 was paid from the tolls received, so that shares produced no dividends until $8000 was taken. It was opened to the public October 16, 1853, and was kept a toll bridge until bought by the city of Gardiner and the town of Pittston January 1, 1886 for $22,000, twenty-two per cent. of which amount was paid by Pittston, levied on valuation, and that per cent. of all cost of repairs, construction and maintainance has since been paid by Pittston and Randolph. The old bridge was taken out by the freshet of 1896. The new iron structure built by the Berlin Iron Bridge Co., was opened to traffic on June 27, of the same year. The total cost to Pittston and Randolph was about $5,000, a little over half of this was paid by Pittston(levied on valuation). The new spans are each 200 feet long and are three feet higher on the piers than was the old wooden structure. At the opening of the new bridge June 27, 1896, there was a general celebration. There was a brass piece placed upon the top of the bridge and awoke the early morning echoes.

KENNEBEC R. R.

Kennebec Central R. R. was opened in July, 1890. The first round trip taken was forty cents, later thirty cents, now twenty cents, since the completion of the new electric road from Togus to Augusta. The officers are: president, Weston Lewis, of Gardiner; general supt., Frank Laughton; treasurer, P. H. Winslow; station agent at Randolph, Fred White; at Togus, Edward Ward.

The same year the K. C. R. R. was opened, the electric road was completed from Augusta to Gardiner which is as convenient to Randolph as to Gardiner, just across the bridge. The station of the M. C. R. R.

is just at the other end of the bridge from Randolph. Two years ago a new line of electrics from Togus to Augusta was opened, which now furnishes a convenient means of conveyance to northern Chelsea.

PITTSTON GRANGE

Pittston Grange, No. 214, was organized March 3, 1876 and elected E. H. Lapham, master. The masters have been since that time: J. M. Carpenter who was elected December 12, 1877; J. B. Ripley, 1878; M. J. Donnell, 1883; J. B. Ripley, 1886: J. A. Kenney, 1887; John Scott, 1889; F. M. Lapham, 1892; Nelson Colburn, 1894; F. M. Lapham, 1895; E. A. Lapham, 1896; G. R. Mansir, 1897; E. A. Lapham, 1898; F. M. Lapham 1899; Mrs. J. B. Ripley, 1900; I. N. Lapham, 1901; R. H. Lapham, 1902. There were forty charter members. The present members of the Grange number forty-five.

Census, 1903-4

The population of the towns of Pittston, Chelsea and Randolph has been arranged here-with in families where that arrangement has been possible. In these families, in addition to the resident living members, the names of the non-resident members are included. It should be borne in mind that this plan does not include the names of all former residents of these towns as the names of the non-residents appear only when one or both the parents are still living in the towns. At the end of the Census will be found the names of non-residents with their present addresses, when such addresses have been given to us. The non-residents are indicated by the (*).

Following the names of the population is the occupation. To designate the occupations we have used the more common abbreviations and contractions. Some of these follow: Farmer—far; carpenter—car; railroad service—R R ser; student, a member of an advanced institution of learning—stu; pupil, a member of a lower grade of schools—pl; housework—ho; laborer—lab; physician and surgeon—phy & sur; clergyman—clerg; merchant—mer; teacher—tr; blacksmith—blk: clerk—cl; book-keeper—bk kpr; lawyer—law; mechanic—mech; engineer—eng; insurance—ins; maker—mkr; worker—w'kr; work—wk.

Notes on Rural Free Delivery.—Sections of Pittston and Chelsea covered by the several rural mail carriers are Route No. 2, Augusta, all of Chelsea west of the R. R. except the settlement known as Pottsville which is supplied from the Togus office. No. 9, Gardiner, all of Chelsea east of the R. R. except the southeastern corner which is supplied by No. 10, from northern Pittston; No. 10, Gardiner, covers northern Pittston following the stage road to North Pittston thence to Keyes corner, thence to Joyce P. O. and returns via. Beech Hill. No. 11, Gardiner, goes to East Pittston thence to Whitefield Plains back to Blinn's Hill and returns to Gardiner via. the Fair Grounds and Beech Hill. covering the central and southeastern parts of the town. No. 12, Gardiner, follows down the Kennebec road into Dresden, thence to Lawrence corner, thence up the eastern river road and returns via. Scott's corner covering western and southwestern Pittston. A few nearHallowell Ferry get their mail from the Hallowell office, also a few families across the river in Pittston from South Gardiner get their mail at that office.

This Census was taken during the autumn of 1963 by F. E. Daggett, Kent's Hill, Me.
